

TAFT LOSES OUT IN CONVENTION

Iowa Republicans Attack Methods Used in Chicago.

GOVERNOR CARROLL FOR TAFT

Hawkeye Executive Denies That National Platform Is Tainted and Put Up a Strong Fight to Defeat Plank in State Document Condemning Convention as Fraudulent.

Des Moines, July 11.—Theodore Roosevelt won a decisive victory in the Republican state convention here and the Taft administration and the managers of the recent national convention in Chicago were as decisively rebuffed.

Republicans of Iowa were left free to vote either for President Taft or Colonel Roosevelt next November by the action of the delegates. The matter was left entirely to the "individual conscience of the voter," and the platform, containing a direct attack upon the legality of the Chicago convention, was adopted by an overwhelming vote.

The progressives dominated the convention from beginning to the end. Despite a hard struggle, led by Governor B. F. Carroll, a Taft adherent, to procure the endorsement of the national platform, the amendment offered by the Iowa executive, containing this endorsement, was laid on the table by a vote of 773 to 342.

Governor Carroll presented the minority resolutions report, which, in addition to the national platform matter, asked for the elimination from the majority platform of the plank condemning the whole Chicago convention as fraudulently made up. He started a demonstration for Roosevelt, lasting nearly twenty minutes, when he said that the national platform "was not tainted," but had been adopted in Chicago by a large majority, not including the contested delegates, and that this was done with the help of "such progressives as Borah, Hadley and Cummins delegates."

The Plank Carroll Opposed.

The plank follows: "The Republicans of Iowa believe in the rule of the people. We believe that the popular will, when fairly expressed in convention or primary, should be faithfully observed. Grave and serious abuses of the convention and caucus system of nominating our national candidates have brought the party to a condition in which great numbers of our loyal adherents question the integrity of the nominations made by our national convention. However, we urge upon every Republican to stand loyally by all of the party nominations made in the state, in districts and in counties, leaving to his individual conscience the controversy over the national nominations." No mention either of Taft or Roosevelt was made in the document, which commends "Republican achievements and endorses progressive policies." Direct primaries for nomination of president and vice president and United States senators, and direct election of the latter, were advocated. The platform also urges that national committeemen be elected direct.

Immediately after the adjournment of the convention the progressive delegates attended a meeting presided over by Judge John Evans of Boone, leader of the Roosevelt forces in Iowa, at which plans for the new third party movement were made.

TRAIN HELD UP BY ROBBERS

Attempt to Dynamite Safe Proves Unsuccessful.

Parsons, Kan., July 11.—Missouri, Kansas and Texas passenger train No. 9, known as the Katy Limited, was held up by six masked men near Coffeyville, Kan. The bandits held the train two hours, during which time the passengers and trainmen were corralled and guarded in the coaches by two of the robbers while the other four exploded nine charges of dynamite in their unsuccessful attempt to blast open the safe in the baggage car. No effort was made to rob the passengers and no one was injured.

The robbers finally left, fearing they might be surprised by the approach of another train or the arrival of officers who might have been sent to learn what was delaying the train.

Soon after the holdup was reported posses were organized at various towns along the line and a systematic search begun. It is believed the fugitives sought refuge in the hills south of Bartlesville, Okla.

Predicts Big Developments.

Washington, July 11.—"Outrages in Mexico are becoming so frequent that this country cannot put up with them any longer. There will be big developments in the Mexican situation in the near future. This was the prediction of the late Sen. Mark Smith of Arizona at the White House."

Abandon Hope for Lost Child.

Phillips, Wis., July 11.—Hope practically has been abandoned of finding alive Rudolph Banck, who disappeared July 3, when his parents were away from their clearing only five minutes. It is feared that the child has died from starvation, unless he has been picked up by some homesteader.

Presents Bill to Provide Loan Fund to Aid Idle Labor.

WOULD PROVIDE LOAN FUND

Representative Berger Offers Solution of Idle Labor Problem.

Washington, July 11.—A special money fund for "willing workers" to be loaned to states, counties and cities for public improvements, is the solution of the idle labor problem suggested in a bill introduced in the house by Representative Victor L. Berger, the Wisconsin Socialist. The bill urges that the government loan money of special issue—for extensive improvements and thereby give work to the unemployed.

"How soon an industrial crisis will come, I do not know," said Berger in supporting the bill. "The government is supporting the rich men's panic in 1907 by loaning $40,000,000 to J. Pierpont Morgan, which he loaned out at 6 percent, utilizing the people's money and the needs of the hour to increase his own wealth."

"There are always 2,000,000 unemployed and in hard times twice that number. My bill would give employment to thousands, and later millions, providing an 'elastic' currency better than that of the Aldrich currency plan."

JOB HARRIMAN IS ACCUSED OF PLOT

Says Charge Is Made by Socialists Opposed to Him.

Los Angeles, July 11.—During the examination of Job Harriman, a Socialist leader of national prominence, in the bribery trial of Clarence S. Darrow, it developed that an effort had been made by political enemies to indict Harriman for complicity in the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building months after the McNamara brothers had confessed and since the Darrow trial began.

No one in the court room apparently was more startled than Harriman when he was questioned by the district attorney as to his knowledge of the dynamiting of the Times' plant. The district attorney declared that he was seeking to show that Harriman's relations with the dynamiters were "more damaging than those of attorney," and that his connection with the jury bribery trial was "more akin to that of defendant."

Harriman, according to District Attorney Fredericks, had said to Carroll at San Luis Obispo, Cal., the day after the Times was blown up, referring to the disaster: "It means that the boys are on the job."

Harriman emphatically denied ever making such a statement. He said he knew the men had gone before the grand jury with such stories. Then he narrated the trouble in the Socialist party which had changed Cantrell and Merriam from his ardent supporters to bitter enemies.

THAW SANE SAY ALIENISTS

Expert Testimony of Hearing Is All in Now.

White Plains, N. Y., July 11.—The last of the expert testimony by alienists was given in the Harry K. Thaw hearing when Dr. William A. White, head of the federal asylum for the insane at Washington, and Dr. Charles K. Mills, a lecturer at Columbia university on mental diseases, gave it as their positive opinion that the slayer of Stanford White is now sane.

It is believed the case will reach the summing up stage by Monday.

Will Nominate By Petition.

New York, July 11.—Managers of the National Progressive party, after several days of consideration, have practically decided not to engage in the September primaries in this state to wrest control from the regular Republican organization. Instead it is planned to nominate national and state tickets by petition.

M'COMBS FOR MACK'S PLACE

New York Lawyer May Be Democratic National Chairman.

MANAGED WILSON CAMPAIGN.

Credit For New Jersey Governor's Nomination For President Due Largely to His Efforts—Surprised Older Politicians by the Aggressive Fight He Made.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 11.—[Special.]—To William F. McCombs, who is likely to be selected chairman of the Democratic national committee, is given the credit more than to any other man for Woodrow Wilson's nomination. Only thirty-six years old, the skill with which Mr. McCombs managed the pre-convention campaign won the admiration of the seasoned politicians.

Mr. McCombs started on his career as a lawyer in New York without a friend or an acquaintance. He made the same kind of an uphill fight that he encountered in Wilson's campaign for the nomination. He has been unusually successful in his profession.

Until the beginning of the Wilson boom Mr. McCombs had not actively participated in national politics. In 1904 he ran for the assembly in a Republican stronghold. He was defeated, but he ran ahead of his ticket and cut down the Republican majority. That was about the extent of his dabbling in politics up to this year.

Norman E. Mack, who has been chairman of the Democratic national committee for four years, did not seek re-election. He will continue as a member of the committee, however.

Put Him in Bad.

The unwritten code among politicians is that no man belonging to a party must ever acknowledge that his party will be beaten in the campaign. He must stand up and predict victory, at least publicly. By making a plain statement, not for publication, John Sharp Williams got in bad, according to his story, in the campaign of 1904. That was the year when everybody could see that the Democrats were going down to defeat.

Williams returned from a campaign trip and was at the Hoffman House in New York, the old Democratic hang-out. He was asked what he thought of the outlook.

"We will carry the solid south," he replied, "including Missouri and Maryland, Nevada and possibly Colorado. Outside of that we won't have a single state."

The next morning his statement appeared in all the papers. "I hadn't seen a newspaper man about," said Williams, "and I couldn't understand how they got hold of it. One fellow, however, had gone so far as to put it in the form of an interview. I had him. In the most vigorous terms I could use I denied that I had given any such interview or anything like it. I jumped on that interview and got out of it in that way."

Having Fun With Garner.

When the paragraph in the agricultural appropriation bill was reached which provided for making experiments in sugar growing John Garner of Texas, whose district has great sugar possibilities, moved an amendment for an increase of $5,000.

"Why not strike out the paragraph?" asked Minority Leader Mann. "What good is it now?"

"I suppose the gentleman has reference to the action of the Democratic caucus," said Garner. The caucus had just adopted the free sugar bill.

"Don't you think it would be playing upon the confidence of the people when it is the intention to ruin the entire industry?" continued Mann.

Much more to the same effect was said before Garner secured his increase, and he did not disclose what he knew to be a fact—that it was not expected that the free sugar bill would ever become a law.

"Sparring" in the House.

You have heard a couple of comedians sparring and joshing each other on the stage. That is what often happens when Jim Mann and John Fitzgerald have nothing else to do. Not long ago Fitzgerald was reading a report of an "agricultural agent" who went into the orient and reported upon nearly everything he saw save agriculture.

"Read some more of it," said Mann. "It is the most interesting thing I have heard you get off in a good while."

"This man tells about a quarrel over a game of monte," said Fitzgerald. "The gentleman from Illinois may be familiar with monte. He seems to know everything."

"I have seen some Brooklyn fellows that played," replied Mann.

"This stuff," said Fitzgerald, returning to the report, "is of no value to a practical agriculturist."

"Like the gentleman from Brooklyn," said Mann.

"Or like the gentleman from Chicago," retorted Fitzgerald.

One on Phil Campbell.

Congressman Campbell of Kansas was denouncing the excise tax bill as a buncombe of a Democratic caucus.

"We do not have to go to a Democratic caucus for buncombe," shouted Covington of Maryland, "when we have left with us a few gentlemen from Kansas."

CHARLES S. DENEEN.

Illinois Governor Threatened With Progressive Opposition.

DENEEN TO HAVE OPPOSITION

Illinois Progressives Expected to Insist He Endorse Roosevelt.

Chicago, July 11.—Medill McCormick returned from Oyster Bay, where he had discussed campaign plans with Colonel Roosevelt and gave out this statement:

"In Illinois there will be a candidate for governor who repudiates the nomination of Mr. Taft as fraudulent and invalid, and who will support Mr. Roosevelt and the progressive principles for which he stands."

The statement was not amplified with any details. In some quarters it was regarded as an indication that there would be a third party ticket in the field, while certain politicians looked on it as serving notice on Governor Deneen that unless he comes under the Roosevelt banner he will be opposed for election by another candidate.

WOMAN NOW FACES CHARGE OF PERJURY

Attorney Says Mrs. Henning Made the Admission.

Chicago, July 11.—A number of persons believed to have information bearing on the confession of Mrs. Josephine Henning that she had wronged Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester company, by permitting her name to be used in a suit for damages against him by her husband, John C. Henning, charging alienation of affections, were questioned by State's Attorney Wayman. One of the objects of the questioning was to ascertain what persons or influences were behind the suit against Mr. Funk, which now is declared to have been baseless in fact.

Mrs. Henning denied she had ever seen Mr. Funk and the main woman witness in behalf of Henning now faces a perjury charge.

One of the angles on which the prosecutor is working is that Mrs. Henning, long before her confession, declared to a young woman masseuse that she (Mrs. Henning) was mixed up in a quarrel between a rich man and a big politician and that she was getting a lot of easy money by permitting her name to be used.

Mr. Funk from the inception of the Henning suit has claimed he was being attacked because of his testimony in the Lorimer investigation in which he accused Edward Hines, Chicago lumberman of soliciting him for a contribution to a fund used to aid in the election of Senator Lorimer.

Attorney Daniel Donahue, counsel for Henning, asked for a continuance until Friday when the prosecution rested its case, saying that Miss Heppner was not in good health. The continuance was granted.

PLAN STATION IN PACIFIC

Hawaii to Have Impregnable Naval and Military Defense.

Washington, July 11.—Broad plans of the army and navy joint board for the creation of an impregnable naval and military station in the Pacific have taken form in an order just issued for the appointment of a board of army officers to meet at Honolulu July 31.

It is instructed "to study the military problem of Oahu, to determine the proper system of mobile defense and the necessary garrison and to report upon mortar batteries and other fixed defenses as a subordinate phase of the general problem of defense."

RAPS VICE IN ATLANTIC CITY

Woodrow Wilson Says Town Is Most in Need of Moral Pride.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 11.—Governor Wilson talked for half an hour on the necessity of working today for results tomorrow and on the evil of individual and national extravagance. The governor's audience was composed of delegates to the national convention of the United States Building and Loan league, and the address was one of welcome, on behalf of New Jersey.

Earlier in the day he told 5,000 residents of Atlantic City and their friends that their town was most in need of moral pride. This was at the corner stone laying of the new Y. M. C. A. building. The crowd cheered him enthusiastically.

Among the men who met Governor Wilson at his hotel was William Cramp, retired shipbuilder of Philadelphia.

"I have voted the Republican ticket for forty years," he told the governor, "but in 1912 I shall vote for you."

COLONEL WON'T WITHDRAW

Roosevelt Says Report of Petitions Is "Preposterous."

Oyster Bay, July 11.—Preliminary arrangements for the third party movement in New York state were made by Colonel Roosevelt in conference with William H. Hetchkiss, the newly appointed state manager; Timothy L. Woodruff and several upstate men who have cast their fortunes with the former president. Colonel Roosevelt said emphatically that he had no intention of withdrawing. He characterized as "preposterous" the report that petitions would be circulated throughout the country asking that both President Taft and he step aside.

Russell Will Case Postponed.

Boston, July 11.—Numerous conferences resulted in the postponement until July 15 of the hearing of the suit of the man from Dickinson, N. D., who is attempting to establish his identity as Daniel Blake Russell, son of the late Daniel Russell of Melrose and heir to half of the $500,000 estate over which there has been a two-year contest.

Situation Causes Alarm Among President's Managers.

MAY CAUSE BATTLE IN COURTS

All Told, Colonel Is Credited With More Than a Hundred Electors and Taft May Have to Run as Independent in a Number of Progressive States.

Washington, July 11.—The situation confronting President Taft and the regular Republican organization is becoming more confused every day. The president's political advisers are fully reconciled to the fact now that Colonel Roosevelt hopes for success through the presidential electors. "Thou shalt not steal" is one of the commandments quoted often these days at Oyster Bay. It is apparent that the same commandment is to be hurled at Roosevelt by the Taft people, who are getting ready to accuse him of planning to "steal" the election through preventing a fair selection of electors in many of the states.

This question of electors is really assuming alarming proportions for the Taft people. It is by all odds the biggest problem National Chairman Hill and his advisers have to tackle. Many in Washington expect to see court proceedings between the Roosevelt and Taft people before the now is over, and doubt is expressed whether even a judicial decision on the question would clear the situation except perhaps in the state where the decree was handed down.

All told, there are almost 100 electors who are Roosevelt men, but whose names will be on the regular Republican organization tickets. Many of these electors have said flatly that they would vote for Roosevelt, and most of the others are leaning toward that course of action.

Selected by Regular Organization.

These Roosevelt Republican electors were selected, of course, by the regular Republican organizations in the states controlled by the Roosevelt forces. Now that President Taft has been nominated, the leaders in control of some of these state organizations refuse to acknowledge him as the regular Republican nominee, and assert they are not bound to support him.

This situation means that President Taft either has got to run his chances by accepting the Roosevelt electors, nominated by the regular Republican state organizations, or put an independent set of electors in the field. The nomination of an independent set can be brought about by petition, but if the president has to resort to this course he will find that his right will be questioned in several states to run the independent set of electors under the heading of Republican party. The Roosevelt state leaders in control of the state organizations, it is said, will contend that they alone are entitled to the use of the name. The president, therefore, may find himself obliged to resort to court proceedings to have the names of his electors under the Republican party of which he is the titular head.

Same Electors on Both Tickets.

The Roosevelt people, on the other hand, in several states where the regular Republican organizations have chosen electors favorable to the colonel, are planning to have the same sets of electors named on the third party ticket. The president's friends acknowledge that the mixup will be complicated if Mr. Taft is obliged to nominate separate lists of electors, in addition to those on the regular Republican ticket and those to be named on the Roosevelt ticket.

There is another phase of the situation that is still more puzzling for the Taft leaders. In some of the states the electors have been, or will be selected at direct primaries. In these states, with the Roosevelt forces in control, President Taft will certainly be confronted with the necessity of running his electors on an independent ballot.

In Kansas the electors will be chosen at primaries on Aug. 6. Governor Stubbs and Senator Bristow are both out for Roosevelt and are saying that if Roosevelt electors are nominated in the primaries they can and will be put under the heading of Taft on the regular Republican ticket, but will vote for Roosevelt in the electoral college.

President Taft has sent out a call to his friends in Kansas who are working like beavers to carry the primaries.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY IN BUTTE

Former Love Affair Leads to Bride's Death—Husband Ends Life.

Butte, Mont., July 11.—At an inquest over the remains of Bert and Mabel Smith, Detectives White and Van Orden said in their opinion Smith cut the throat of his bride of a week and then drank acid. A letter, torn in pieces, was thrown around the room in which the two were found dead as though an attempt had been made to destroy it. The missive contained reference to a former love affair of the woman's. The jury returned a verdict that Smith murdered his wife and then committed suicide.

Have you heard of anyone withdrawing from the presidential race yet?

Peterson takes it back and says he has not decided who he will support for president. The man who desires to be United States senator and claims to be a republican should not be long in making up his mind on that point.

Roosevelt says it is not up to him to take himself out of the running.
he is in the game to the finish. It is quite probable that Taft, Wilson and Roosevelt will head the tickets and their followers will be given a chance to say "yea" or "nay" as to their eligibility.

The Little Falls Transcript says:
Several cities in this state, among them Bemidji, Brainerd and Grand Rapids, have been experimenting with concrete paving for their city streets. The results attained have been highly successful. The paving, it has been found, withstands the severity of the winter months without cracking and is almost dust-less. Its many points of superiority over macadam commend it for more general adoption. The cost of concrete paving is said to be about 90 cents per square yard, for 5-inch thickness. Sometimes a layer of crushed granite is mixed with the top layer and an almost indestructible pavement is the result.

THERE WILL BE NO DUTCH LUNCH

Guests Invited to Attend a Dutch Lunch in the Lion's Den at the Carnival Have Declined

PETE CARDLE WILL WIN FAME

By Shaving Lion Trainer in the Den of Lions at Friday Night Show

Pete Cardle will make a bid for fame and glory Friday evening when he will enter the arena at the trained animal show and shave the lion trainer in the midst of the man-eater of the jungles. This act was not premeditated on Pete's part, nor is it an attempt to "show up" the people who declined to eat lunch in the lion's den. It came about thusly: The lion tamer has been getting shaved at Pete's shop and Pete, who is president of the "Kidders" union, attempted to kid the lion man about his tame house cats. The lion tamer, considerably nettled, challenged Pete to come up to the show and shave him in the den with the lions. Pete, not to be backed down accepted the challenge and so on Friday evening at the first show will enter the arena and give the trainer the closest shave of his life.

There will be no Dutch lunch in the lion's den at the Paterson animal show—now while the shows remain in Brainerd. The guests invited have declined the honor with thanks, and regrets a foot deep are strewn about the Patterson office wagon. The failure of the gastronomic function is attributed partly to the cartoon published in yesterday's Dispatch, but mainly to a copy of the Winona Republican-Herald which fell into the hands of one of the invited guests and which contained the following account of a tragedy that occurred while the shows were exhibiting in that town. The Winona paper says:

"Terribly torn and mangled by the claws and teeth of an enraged lioness, Howard Guinn lies at the point of death in a stateroom of the Patterson Pullman cars. The accident occurred at the trained wild animal circus at the carnival grounds this morning when Guinn attempted to put one of the beasts through some stunts in the arena. He escaped with his life only when an attack of the show shot and killed the animal."

"Guinn is one of the assistants of Capt. Cardona, the head trainer. Several times he has remarked to his associates that lion taming was a snap and that he could duplicate Cardona's performance. He took advantage of Cardona's absence to turn a lioness into the arena but unfortunately he chose the lioness "Spitfire," a magnificent specimen of the Nubian variety. Spitfire developed an ugly streak several days ago and Cardona has been compelled to handle her very carefully in order to get her through her part of the performance without mishap. Last night the beast was particularly sulky and gave him considerable trouble during the first show."

"Guinn opened the door of Spitfire's cage and as soon as she spied a stranger began to lash herself into a fury. Guinn tried to force her onto a pedestal and struck at her with a whip. With an angry snarl the tawny brute sprang full at his throat. Guinn sidestepped, but the beast caught him in the side with one paw, stripping the flesh from the ribs and knocking him down. Whirling about the lioness seized the man's right arm in her powerful jaws and crunched flesh and bone, shaking him as a terrier would a rat. J. Wm. Coghlan, manager of the animal show, was at the office wagon, and hearing the struggle ran into the tent, sprang to the back of the arena, where a heavy revolver is always hanging loaded and fired four shots into the brute before it relaxed its hold and rolled over dead.

"The injured man was picked up, placed in the company's automobile and a quick run made to the office of Dr. Muir, who dressed the man's wounds. His wounds are exceedingly dangerous as blood poisoning often results in cases of this sort."

RULING WILL BE ENFORCED

Postoffice Department Secures Sworn Statement From the Local Newspapers

The ruling made some time ago by the postoffice department that subscriptions to newspapers must not be far in arrears has taken on a little more interest of late for local papers. The Dispatch has received a request from the department in Washington for a sworn statement of its list of subscribers. This statement covers the whole subscription list and gives in detail just how each subscriber stands on the books as regards his subscription payments.

There is little doubt in the minds of the publishers of this paper that an order will be sent to strike from our list all subscriptions which are not paid up in accordance with the ruling of the department. We wish to caution the few subscribers now in arrears to make some efforts to aid us in complying with the department's ruling. For the benefit of our patrons we are publishing below a copy of the department's notice to us received at the time a request was made for a sworn statement of circulation:

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT
Third Assistant Postmaster General
Washington, July 3, 1912.
Publishers of Brainerd Daily Dispatch,
Brainerd, Minn.

Sirs: Your attention is invited to amended paragraph 3, section 456 of the postal laws and regulations, appearing in the December 1911, Postal Guide, reading as follows:

"The right of publishers to extend in good faith credit on subscriptions is recognized and will not be abridged, and although all subscriptions are regarded as expiring with the period for which they were obtained, nevertheless, in order to give an opportunity to secure renewals, copies of their publications will be accepted for mailing to subscribers at the usual second-class rates of postage for a period of one year from the date of expiration; but copies sent to persons after one year from the date of expiration of their subscriptions, unless such subscriptions be expressly renewed for a definite time, together with an actual payment of subscription or a bona-fide promise of payment, will not be accepted at the transient rate, but will be accepted at the transient second-class rate of one cent for each four ounces or fraction thereof, prepaid by stamps affixed."

Respectfully,
JAMES BRITT,
Third Assistant Postmaster General.

WEDGEWOOD FOR CO. COMMISSIONER

Deerwood, Crosby and Cuyuna Commercial Clubs Endorse Cashier Cuyuna State Bank

STORM DID DAMAGE ON RANGE

Cuyler Adams, Pres. Cuyuna Northern Ry., Makes Recommendations About Crossing

Deerwood, Minn., July 11.—At a representatives of the Deerwood, Crosby and Cuyuna Commercial clubs and held for the purpose of endorsing a candidate for county commissioner to represent this section of the Cuyuna range, I. W. Wedgewood, cashier of the First State Bank of Cuyuna, was recommended for that position. John Oberg, of Deerwood, was prominently mentioned, but refused absolutely to be a candidate. In withdrawing, Mr. Oberg suggested the name of B. J. Magoffin, Jr., of Deerwood. In the end the contest narrowed down to Mr. Wedgewood, of Cuyuna, and C. H. Adams, of Deerwood, and Wedgewood received the endorsement of the clubs, a most powerful assistance towards his election.

Victor Wickstrom returned on Wednesday from a 1,100 mile automobile trip which covered a route from Deerwood to Duluth, thence to Grand Marais, back to Duluth, on to Minneapolis and 300 miles south of the Flour City and back to Deerwood. On the return trip Mr. Wickstrom left Minneapolis at six in the morning and arrived in Deerwood at two in the afternoon. During his journey the machine had three punctures and 11 blowouts.

Vernie Taylor has placed an electric sign at his ice cream parlor and confectionery store.

F. L. Kinney, of Aitkin, agent of the Bay Lake Fruit Growers association, is now established at Deerwood to superintend the shipping of the large crop which the growers anticipate raising this season. A small office building has been erected near the depot and is provided with desk room, telephone and other conveniences. The association, in addition to handling fruit as in former years, will ship potatoes, cabbages and root crops of all kinds. The prospects look good for the biggest berry crop ever recorded in the history of the association. So far 15,000 crates of raspberries have been shipped, all being of the uniform high standard in growth, picking and packing set by the association. 1,000 crates of strawberries have been shipped. Blackberries and currants promise a large yield. The success of the association in shipping and marketing these products shows what cooperation will do.

The Adams hotel, newly renovated, is enjoying a large patronage. It is said that George Eisenhour, of Pine River, may lease it from Mr. Adams.

The Cuyuna Northern railway has now secured an unbroken right of way from Deerwood to Ironton with the exception of the Musser, Engman and Bergen lands. Matters are in process of adjustment regarding the right of way through these farms.

Louis Knudsen, of Brainerd, was surveying near Deerwood Wednesday.

The funeral of the late Henry Blackwood, who was run over by a chemical engine on the Fourth of July, was held at nine o'clock Thursday morning from the Catholic church, the Rev. Father Quillen officiating. His demise is a sad one, for the young man left a wife and little baby and to them and the parents and other relatives the heartfelt sympathy of the community is extended.

The annual meeting of the Scandia Cemetery company will be held at two o'clock, in the afternoon of July 13, at the office of C. J. Rathvon.

The annual school meeting of District No. 7 will be held at the new school house at 7 P. M., July 20. A chairman is to be elected for a two year term; a treasurer for a three year term and a clerk for a one year period. A vote will also be taken on the question of building a sidewalk in front of the school house lot.

Last Friday's storm did considerable damage at and near Deerwood. The Ellmore blacksmith shop was struck by lightning. A number of fine pine trees were blown down on the McCausland property on Serpent lake. Some were blown down on Twister's Point, in the McCarville and Taylor addition. Serpent lake was lashed into large whitecaps, but the Ingalls Motor Boat Co. boats rode through the breakers in perfect safety.

"Dad" Lechleiter went to Brainerd Wednesday to attend the carnival. He said he was an old soldier and not afraid to face a Ferris wheel, merry-go-round or the "squeezer" tent.

At the council meeting Cuyler Adams, president of the Cuyuna Northern railway, recommended that the overhead crossing be widened and the approaches be made easier, particularly on the north side, so that the turn would not be so abrupt. He also stated that the stretch between the two viaducts would be leveled up by planking and grading.

The council adopted the plan of paying day labor on street work $2 per day and the street commissioner $2.50 per day. The bonds of the village have been accepted by the state. The bonds of the treasurer have been increased to $5,000. The clerk was instructed to write a letter to the Northern Pacific railway officials thanking them for their generous donation of 50 cars of gravel which have been used in improving the streets.

An electric street light was ordered placed on the corner of Sewall street and Second avenue in the First Addition to Deerwood, and one on the corner of Cuyuna street and Second avenue, in the Second addition to Deerwood. One is also to be placed at the rear of the Bay Lake road near section 17.

The ordinance prohibiting the tacking of signs, notices, etc., on telephone, telegraph, electric light poles and lamp posts, received its first reading.

Mrs. H. J. Ernster has returned from a visit with relatives at Owatonna.

Mrs. E. A. Lamb recently visited friends and relatives in Minneapolis. A dance is to be given in Deerwood Saturday evening.

Choice of a Husband is too important a matter for a woman to be handicapped by weakness, bad blood or foul breath. Avoid these kill-hopes by taking Dr. King's Life Pills. New strength, fine complexion, pure breath, cheerful spirits—things that win men—follow their use. Easy, safe, sure. 25c at all druggists.

Shere-Knutzen

The marriage of Edward Shere of Beltrami county, and Miss Rose Knutzen of this city was solemnized at 12:30 today at the Methodist Episcopal parsonage.

The ceremony was witnessed by a few friends of the young couple, with Miss Amanda Knutzen acting as bridesmaid, and Mr. Edward A. Hoffman assisting the groom.

The short ring service of the church was used, the lines being read by the Rev. Charles Fox Davis the officiating clergyman.

The young couple left on the afternoon train for Pincher Lake, Southern Alberta, where they will make their future home.

Both of the young couple are well known in Brainerd, Mr. Shere having been in the employ of the N. P. shops. The Dispatch joins with their many friends in wishing for them a most prosperous future.

Maghan-Hunt

Bay Lake, Minn., July 11.—The marriage of Miss Eva L. Hunt to Mr. Arthur M. Maghan took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hunt Wednesday at 11 o'clock A. M., Rev. E. LaRoe, of Deerwood, officiating. The room was beautifully decorated in ferns and flowers. Miss Alma Maghan was bridesmaid and Mr. Walter H. Waffensmith was best man. After the ceremony dinner was served out under the trees on the lake shore. The names of those present are as follows: Miss Alma Maghan, Mr. Walter Waffensmith, Mrs. Ellen Fmscho, of Duluth, Mr. and Mrs. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Maghan, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Maghan, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bergfolk, Mr. and Mrs. J. Waffensmith, Chas. Maghan, Albert Maghan, Robert Maghan, Ralph Wallace, Edith Hunt, Arthur Hunt, Eldred Hunt, Mr. Chas. Coleman, Mr. Leon Borden, Ralph Waffensmith, Elmer Waffensmith, Chas. Wheeler and Mr. and Mrs. Maghan of Duluth.

Improvements at Court House

One of the best evidences of the growth of a county is to be seen in the increased volume of work which is being done at its courthouse from day to day, and Crow Wing is surely showing this. It is a rare thing to find any of the county officers looking for something to do these days, and the increase in volume of legitimate county work keeps the corps of county officials with their hands full, and the long desired renovation and necessary conveniences which the county commissioners ordered done some time ago is now going on.

The alterations will have largely to do with the offices of the clerk of court, judge of probate and county auditor and county treasurer, and the force of each department is hard at work removing their valuables to the main auditorium of the courtroom upstairs, and the contractor, C. B. Rowley with his men are pulling down old partitions necessary for the improvements.

Among the alterations and improvements will be new vaults for both the auditor and the treasurer, also for the county clerk and the judge of probate, and an office specifically for the county commissioners to meet and do their important business in. Heretofore they have had to meet in the office of the county auditor much to the inconvenience of both parties.

The improvements have been needed for a long time and much satisfaction is in evidence because of the improvements and the improved and enlarged vaults wherein to preserve the invaluable county documents.

What Makes a Woman?

One hundred and twenty pounds, more or less, of bone and muscle don't make a woman. Its a good foundation. Put into it health and strength and she may rule a kingdom. But that's just what Electric Bitters gave her. Thousands bless them for overcoming fainting and dizzy spells and for dispelling weakness, nervousness, backache and tired, listless, worn out feeling. "Electric Bitters have done me a world of good" writes Eliza Pool, Depew, Okla., "and I thank you, with all my heart, for making such a good medicine." Only 50c. Guaranteed by all druggists.

NOTIFYING CANDIDATES OF THEIR NOMINATION

The Procedure Used to Be Very Simple, the Mails
Being Employed.

Chairman Sent General Taylor a Letter That Was Unstamped.

NOTIFYING the candidates of their nominations by their respective conventions may take place at any time. There is no rule about it. Generally it occurs within thirty days after the conventions. The permanent chairman of a convention is usually chairman of the notification committee. The first presidential nominee to get the notification as it is now made was Henry Clay, in 1831. The committee consisted of one delegate from each state. From then until now to be one of the notification committee has, in the estimation of the committeeman, added luster to his name.

Before the plan now in vogue nominees were notified by mail. That custom caused one nominee some chagrin. The chairman of the convention notified him by letter. In those days the recipient of a letter paid the postage when the letter was delivered. In the case of the nomination of General Taylor by the Whig convention the chairman, Governor Morehead, wrote the notification letter. After several weeks of silence Governor Morehead became uneasy. General Taylor's mail was unusually heavy, and he gave orders that all mail to his address should be returned to the dead letter office unless the postage was prepaid. The chairman of the Whig convention had failed to prepay on his letter of notification, and back it went to the dead heap in Washington. Thereupon the chairman wrote another letter of notification, put on the stamps and hurried it to the waiting nominee in Louisiana. General Taylor replied to that at length.

Notification of Hendricks.

The nominee is notified at his place of residence unless some other arrangement is made. If the officer of the day at Governors Island had not understood his business a laughable incident might have occurred when General Hancock, then in command of the eastern department, was waited upon by the notification committee from the Cincinnati convention, which nominated General Hancock for president. A Missouri editor, who was one of the committee, broke away from the main body as it approached the veranda of the house of the commandant and endeavored to persuade the officer in charge of such matters that he must have the guns roar out the presidential salute. It is said that the Missourian used his perverted oratory in trying to have the officer understand that he (the Missourian) had a verbal order for what he asked. It is not known what reply the officer made, but the guns didn't roar and the story never got out.

It is remembered by a few of the old politicians who were in the convention that nominated Cleveland and Hendricks, that the Indiana statesman and his friends were greatly incensed over the failure of the convention to make the fall of the ticket reverse itself. Mr. Hendricks was a sage in Democratic councils when Mr. Cleveland was a day scholar. Mrs. Hendricks was a high born lady in the best social circles of her own home and in Washington. She shared the political ambitions of her illustrious husband.

TOGO'S OLD SHIP WRECKED.

The Naniwa Is the Cruiser Which Began the War With China.

The cruiser Naniwa, which was recently wrecked off the Kurila Islands, in the north Pacific, was the flagship of Admiral Togo in the Chinese-Japanese war of 1904.

The Naniwa is a cruiser of 3,650 tons and was in 1894 the flagship of the first flying squadron of the Japanese navy. A shot from the vessel started the Chinese-Japanese war.

The Kowshing, a transport flying the British flag, with a British captain and crew and carrying 1,100 Chinese soldiers, was overtaken by Togo in the Naniwa. He brought the transport to a stop by firing two blank cartridges. Togo then sent a lieutenant aboard the Kowshing, demanding that the transport turn about and steam back with the Naniwa to the Japanese fleet. The captain of the Kowshing agreed to do this, but his British officers and the Chinese soldiers mutinied. After four hours' delay Togo opened fire and sank the transport. This began the war with China, throughout which the Naniwa was Togo's flagship. It was heavily pounded by Chinese guns in various engagements, but suffered no vital damage.

LIBERTY BELL CALLED FRAUD

Never Was Rung to Proclaim Independence in 1776.

HISTORIAN JACKSON'S CLAIM.

He Says the Famous Relic Was Cracked in 1833 at the Death of Chief Justice Marshall—Produces Data Supporting His Statement.

Six hundred thousand loyal Americans on an average have traveled hundreds of miles annually, shed numerous tears and believed themselves to be looking at something wonderful when they gazed upon the Liberty bell, which is on exhibition in Independence hall, Philadelphia.

Now, Joseph Jackson, a well known Philadelphia historian, after years of study and research comes forward with the statement that all those pretty sentiments regarding the cracked bell are myths and that for years the old bell simply has been fooling the public.

Not only have thousands come to visit the old bell, but it has been longed around the country to numerous exhibitions, it has had a bodyguard, and it has been treated as a member of the family.

According to Historian Jackson, the old bell never proclaimed liberty throughout the land, a little boy never stood at the foot of the tower and yelled to the gray haired old man in the tower, "Ring, grandpa, ring," as the Declaration of Independence was proclaimed. This, too, according to Historian Jackson, is another beautiful myth, and he produces the data to prove his statements.

He takes everything up in chronological order and one by one shatters the dreams of other historians who have accepted all these dreams about the Liberty bell without question.

History of the Bell.

Historian Jackson starts his denial with an explanation of how the bell first happened to be made. The records in his possession show that a resolution passed by the house of representatives on Oct. 16, 1752, instructed the superintendent of the statehouse to procure a bell for the use of the assembly and that on Nov. 1 of the same year a letter was dispatched to Robert Charles of London ordering a bell of about 2,000 pounds which was to be cast with the following words, "well shaped in large letters, round it."

"By order of the Assembly for the Province of Pennsylvania for the Statehouse in the City of Philadelphia, 1752." And underneath: "Proclaim liberty through all the land to all the inhabitants thereof.—Leviticus, xxv, 10."

Mr. Jackson takes up the alleged ringing of the bell and the claim that it proclaimed liberty on July 4, 1776. So far as he has been able to discover after years of research, this misleading statement is directly traceable to "Watson's Annals of Philadelphia," which was published in 1830.

Prior to the publication of that work the bell was known as the statehouse bell and not the Liberty bell, and nothing had been said about its use in proclaiming independence. Even as late as 1830 it was known as the statehouse bell, even after that building had ceased to be the assembly and title had passed to the commonwealth of Philadelphia.

"So little was thought of the bell," says Mr. Jackson, "that during the discussions in city councils in 1828 regarding the restoration of the statehouse and the introduction of a clock in a proposed tower a new bell was ordered, and the old one—the now famous myth bell of liberty—was to be given in part payment."

How It Was Cracked.

Mr. Jackson takes up the crack in the bell, which recently has widened so that the old piece of metal no longer may be taken on trips around the country, as it was for several years. He declares that the bell was cracked when it was taken from its quarters in the old tower and tolled for the death of Chief Justice Marshall in 1833.

Mr. Jackson quotes an entire chapter from the work of George Lippard, a fiction writer, whom he blames for many of the historic myths, in which the story of the ringing of the bell is told. He then retraces his steps and makes the assertion that the bell was not rung on July 4, 1776. He gives as his authority Thomas McKean, who declares that the draft of the Declaration of Independence was not adopted until very late in the evening of July 4, 1776, and it was not until twenty-four hours later that it was decided to make known the fact of the adoption of the Declaration.

"Therefore," says Mr. Jackson, "it is not reasonable to suppose that the bell was rung on July 4, 1776, when very few persons knew anything about the adoption of the Declaration until July 5, 1776. Had the bell been rung on July 4 every person in Philadelphia would have known of the action taken by congress."

Not satisfied with this, Mr. Jackson also quotes from the diaries of Charles Biddle and Mrs. Deborah Logan, and in neither of them is any mention of the Liberty bell or the statehouse bell having proclaimed liberty or even having been rung.

Mr. Jackson declares that the Liberty bell received its first real baptism in the early seventies, during preparations for the Centennial celebration.

HOPE.

Youth is only another name for happiness, and you do not begin to grow old until you lose hope, for without hope happiness is impossible.

Washington Irving.
A house in William street, New York, was Irving's birthplace on April 3, 1783. The British were soon to take possession of it. Mrs. Irving, a warm hearted woman of English birth and an ardent patriot of the new land, said, "Washington's work is ended, and the child shall be named after him." The child was still in the care of a Scotch nurse when one day she saw the president, as Washington then was, enter a shop, and after him she went. "Please, your honor," she said, "here's a bairn named after you." The president laid his hand on the boy's head and gave him a blessing, which he never forgot.

An Anthem to Order.

Lord Kitchener on one occasion invented a national anthem. It was upon the occasion of a visit to India of the ameer of Afghanistan, and the order went around that all military bands were to greet him with the national anthem of Afghanistan. But no one knew what it was, and Lord Kitchener was appealed to.

"What does it matter two straws?" he said. "Play a bar or two of something slow and pompous and let it go at that."

So the first band that greeted the ameer played a march from one of the German operas very slowly and solemnly, and this was generally taken up by the whole of the bands in India.

Miles and Knots.

A circle is divided into 21,600 minutes of arc. It is supposed that the circumference of the earth at the equator is 24,808,5928 miles. But a knot or nautical mile equals this number of statute miles divided by 21,600, which, performed and reduced to feet, gives 6,086.3, the legal statute mile being 5,280 feet.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
